KENTUCKY PMA GROUP RESIGNS AT U.S. REQUEST

Cooper To Name
New State Farm
Program Group

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 27—The five appointed members of the State Production and Marketing Administration committee resigned yesterday, clearing the way for appointment of a new committee by the Republican administration.

It was understood that the resignations were requested by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson. All five members had been active in federal agricultural programs since early New Deal days. The five resigning were: R. O. Wilson, Grand Rivers, chairman; H. B. Popplewell, Jamestown; M. C. Butler, Milton; W. J. Scherm, Owensboro; H. M. Roseberry, Paris.

The resignations, effective July 3, were mailed to Benson at Washington. With the resignations, there developed the possibility that the new state committee, when named, might consist of only three members instead of five. This has been the practice in 11 other states where the Eisenhower administration has appointed committees since it took power.

Presumably appointments will be made on recommendation of Sen. John Sherman Cooper as head of the GOP in the state. Wilson, in resigning, said: "As a PMA committee member, as a PMA farm-fieldman, as a state PMA committee member, and for the past 4½ years as chairman of the state PMA committee, my goal has been the improvement of farm living as a just reward for the farmers' labor in supplying consumers with food and fiber. That has been the goal also of those who have served with me. In some measure, at least, I feel that our efforts were successful."

"A large part of that success was a result of splendid co-operation and much hard work on the part of other state and federal agencies, businessmen, farm organizations, employees of the state PMA office, farmer-fieldmen, county office personnel, and county and community committees."

The state PMA committee develops policy for administration of so-called action programs of the Agriculture Department specifically agricultural conservation, price support, marketing quota, and local administration of federal crop insurance.

THE LEACH FAMILY
SCIONS OF NOBLE LINE
By J. M. Gevedon
Grassy Creek, Ky.

Though never having been brought to public attention, the Leach family is one of the largest of this section of our country. I can trace their genealogy back to the year 1017 when Conrad II was crowned Emperor of Germany by the Pope of Rome. This, of course, is through the great family of Chastains.

Just a few years ago plain markers stood at the graves of William Leach and Judith Chastain Leach on the old home farm on lower Grassy Creek where there some time ago, I found that vandals had tumbled these markers over the hill where they were broken to pieces and nothing could be deciphered.

William Leach, French Huguenot, married Judith Chastain, youngest daughter of the famous preacher of Buckingham county, Virginia, Raney Chastain. Later they came to Kentucky and settled on land near Owensville, and to Judith by her father. Later they followed their kindred, the Carters and settled on lower Grassy Creek where they lived out the rest of their life, and raised a respectable family of children: John, their only son, and five daughters: Marena, Mary Ann, Nancy, Magdalen and Margaret.

Wrigley-Leisure Road Into Beautiful Section of Morgan Nears Completion

Rugged Scenery,
Falls Make Area
Good Outing Site

Raymond B. Gose, area highway engineer, advises that the Wrigley-Leisure road is being completed next week. All road-dressing of shoulders and surfacing of intersections and approaches will be completed by next Wednesday if weather permits.

This road has some of the most beautiful scenery of any highway in Morgan county. The alignment follows the old Morehead and North Fork Railroad survey. The Twin Tunnel has been widened to a 24-ft. roadway clearance and the arch overhead is beautiful, with North Fork of Licking River passing through the tunnel on the left side. This tunnel was made through approximately 100 feet of solid rock in 1907 when the railroad was constructed.

There is some nice fishing water along this road. One pond has some very large fish that never have been caught and it is rumored that some are over four feet in length.

Parking areas are being provided along the road for tourists and there is one very beautiful falls 1.6 mile down from Ky. 7 at Wrigley. Anyone wishing to go over this new highway during the holiday week end is invited.

The entire distance is 3.00 miles, beginning at Wrigley and extending northwest to Leisure, ending 100 feet ahead of the bridge over Devils Fork.

Three bridges have been raised, new concrete caps constructed and creosoted 2x4 flooring installed.

Blairs Mills Farmer Makes Good Profits With Flock of Chicks

Ted Cassidy of Blairs Mills has proven to himself that there is a profit to be made from raising poultry in Morgan county, according to Claude C. Christian, assistant county agent. Mr. Cassidy kept a record on 40 New Hampshire hens that were culled according to the county agent's recommendations for a period of four months, January 1 through April 30. During this period Mr. Cassidy sold 207 dozens of eggs that netted a return of $109.35 above cash expenses for feed. Also there were plenty of eggs for home use. He used six of these hens for meat during the period thus ending the four months with 34 hens.

Mr. Cassidy raised all of the feed for these 40 hens except $10 worth. The home grown feed consisted of pasture, corn, oats and milk.

Mr. Cassidy thinks from this experience that poultry raising definitely has a place in a farming program in Morgan county.

HIGH COURT TEST MAY APPLY HERE

The name of Noah P. Greear of Greear who filed for the Commissioner nomination for Tax Commissioner in Morgan county, may be omitted from the primary ballots on the basis of a decision of the Court of Appeals in Frankfort Wednesday.

The Court of Appeals Wednesday upheld the 1949 State law requiring candidate for tax commissioner posts to pass a qualifying examination.

Late the same day, County Clerk Edgar Rudd's office here was notified by the State Revenue Department of high court decision. Mr. Gill of the department said in a telephone conversation Greear's name should be left off the ballot and advised that written instructions would follow by mail.

Greear on Monday had obtained an order from Circuit Judge John A. Keck directing the county clerk here to place his name on the ballot. Judge Keck made this ruling at Grayson County, where he heard the pleadings of Greear's lawyer, William Young of Frankfort in a suit filed by Greear June 22.

Greear, tax commissioner here from 1942 to 46, contended the certificate he obtained from the State Tax Commission in 1937 after passing the commission's qualifying test, had not been revoked, and that the 1949 act requiring candidates to pass a qualifying examination was unconstitutional because it exempts incumbent tax commissioners to guide Revenue Department in giving and grading of the examination. Greear does not possess a qualifying certificate under the 1949 law.

Judge Keck was the fifth circuit judge to rule the 1949 act unconstitutional. Frankfort Circuit Judge William B. Ardrey had ruled last month the 1949 law unconstitutional on a case filed by Ted Turner of Harlan county. The State appealed the decision.

In declaring the 1949 act unconstitutional, the high court said Turner "has not shown himself to be qualified to be a candidate for the nomination for the office of tax commissioner of Harlan county."

Arbitrary Powers Argued
Franklin County Attorney William A. Young, attorney for Ted Turner, argued the appeal late court that the law is invalid because it delegates arbitrary power to the Revenue Department. Further, Young contended, the law prescribes no passing grade and exempts incumbents from having to take the test.

This year's test was void, added Young, because no standards for it were filed with the Statutes Revision Commission as required by law.

Young pointed out that the Court of Appeals had upheld a 1942 law that required a prospective candidate to take a test. The 1942 law set 75 as the passing grade. The 1949 law prescribes no passing grade.

Grade Called Reasonable
The passing grade of 70 was determined as "reasonable and not arbitrary" by the Revenue Department long before the examination was given, declared Attorney James A. Tyler, who argued for the Revenue Department.

Tyler declared the Revenue Department is the proper agency to formulate the test because tax commissioners deal with this department.

Seven Errors Cost
Morgan Countians
8-6 Loss At Irvine

(By Rudy Franklin)

Irvine took advantage of seven West Liberty errors to score four unearned runs in their 8-6 victory over the Morgan countians at Irvine last Sunday.

West Liberty outthrew their opponents 14 to 10 but Irvine's errors along with their four earned tallies proved enough to hand the Morgan countians their fifth loss of the season.

Hogg Spencer went the route for West Liberty as he allowed 10 base hits and four earned runs. Although 10 safeties were collected from Spencer's offerings, the loss must be charged almost entirely against the team's poor fielding.

Merle Nickell kept his bat singing as he collected a triple, a double and two singles in four times to the plate. Nickell currently is leading the local team in batting with a neat 400 percent. Glenn Stanley is a close second with 392.

The West Liberty bats began ringing as the first five men up in the top of the first inning banged out clean hits. The rally was stopped abruptly however as Stacy was caught stealing and Freddy and Bob Blair struck out but not before the locals had scored four runs. Irvine came back to score two runs in the first and second innings each and 3 in the third while holding the West Liberty nine scoreless. Their only other runs came in the sixth on a single, a stolen base and two errors. By the time the ninth inning rolled around, the Morgan team was behind by three runs but a rally seemed to be in the making as Stacy singled after Spencer grounded F. Blair then followed with a pop up for the second out. Things looked better than ever, however, as Bob Blair blasted a long triple cutting the Irvine lead to a slim two run margin. It was very evident by this time that the Irvine pitcher was tiring fast. The rally was stopped shortly thereafter as Blair attempted to steal home. The attempt was unsuccessful as he was thrown out twenty feet shy of home plate for the third out.

The West Liberty team will play host to Beattyville here Sunday. Hogg Spencer will be the starter for the locals.

9 TRUSTEES FOR PHONE CO-OP ARE NAMED AT MEET

Subscriber-Members
At Annual Meeting
Held At Courthouse

A 9-member board of trustees consisting of five men from Wolfe county, two from Morgan and two from Elliott was elected at the annual meeting of subscriber-members of the Mountain Rural Telephone Cooperative held in the court house here Wednesday evening.

Sixty-six subscriber-members of the co-op attended the meeting and approved by voice vote the nine candidates for trustees nominated May 23 by the co-op's nominating committee. The nine trustees elected are—

William A. Heagen, Ezel Henry A. Stovall, Hazel Green; Rex McDowell, Gimlet; Hubert Lykins, Rogers; W. R. Rowland, Ezel; Dorsey C. Rose, Hazel Green; Joseph W. Conley, Sandy Hook; Sam D. Cecil, Hazel Green; Steve Rose, Campton.

They will serve for one year. Mr. Heagen is the present president of the co-op and Dorsey C. Rose is secretary.

The co-op, which was granted an REA loan of $455,000 to build a modern dial telephone system in Morgan, Elliott and Wolfe counties, should have its three-county system in operation by Thanksgiving, Woodrow W. Barber, manager, told the members.

Barber said work is now underway on constructing sub-station exchanges at Sandy Hook, Hazel Green, Campton and Ezel, and that bids will be opened here July 23 for the construction of 354 miles of telephone lines in the three counties. The co-op has approximately 1,300 members.

Barber said bidders will be required to submit bids on the basis of finishing constructing the 354 miles of lines in 90 working days. Thus, the system should be completed around Thanksgiving, he said.

He said the system will have trunk outlets connecting with the Bell System at Winchester and with the General Telephone Company at Morehead.

Largest delegations of subscriber-members were from Elliott and Wolfe counties. V. H. Redwine, Elliott county attorney, told the group, "We feel in Elliott county like we are entitled to three trustees instead of two."

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENTS

VOTE FOR GOOD CO. GOVERNMENT

It is less than a month until primary day Aug. 1, 1953, and I want to solicit your vote and influence in my race for County Attorney of Morgan County. I know that you are well acquainted with Mr. Nickell and myself and have been discussing the pro's and con's of both of us as you have the many other candidates.

I am running on my merits and my ability to make you a good County Attorney. I would have liked to step aside and let one of the young attorneys have the office. I submitted a proposition to Mr. Nickell privately, that he ignored; and while it was yet time to let some one else file I published my proposition and indicated my willingness to stand aside for a young man, but Mr. Nickell being in his 24th year as County Attorney, is not willing that any other attorney have the office.

You have been nice to Mr. Nickell and myself in election and you don't really owe either of us anything, but you do owe something to the young men who are trying to get started as attorneys, and I don't believe you approve of any longer tenure of office for Mr. Nickell.

In every community you have three out of five people you ask to will say Lynn B. Wells will win the County Attorney's race. I believe that my majority would be 1000 at this time. I don't believe that you will be fooled by a pat on the back, but will go to the polls and vote your sentiment.

You know that I am your friend, year in and year out and that I don't just get extra friendly at election time. This is why I am frequently spoken of as YOUR FRIEND AND NEIGHBOR. I want you to know that I appreciate your friendship and the high esteem in which you hold me. I am

Sincerely yours,

JOE FANNIN STATES FACTS

In past issues of the Licking Valley Courier it has been suggested by some of the candidates that the voters check their qualifications for office.

This would be quite a task for the voters so why not let the candidates state their qualifications and let the voters decide who is the best qualified for this important office, and whom this office might benefit the most, so here are my qualifications.

I graduated from high school here in West Liberty in 1928. After graduating I attended and graduated from a business college in Fort Wayne, Ind. where I studied bookkeeping, general and cost accounting. After graduating I did accounting work for two years, then I returned to Morgan county and taught school for three years. I write insurance in Morgan county, have been in the wholesale grocery business, have traveled for several local wholesalers as well as one of the largest in the state.

I have worked away from home most of the time for the past ten years. All the jobs that I have been on have been instrumental to the defense of our country. Three of these years I worked on atomic energy projects. My brother Denzil Fannin spent four years in the Army during that time.

Neither my brother nor I deserve any more credit for the part we have played in the defense of our country than so many other families that have done the same thing, but it would be so much easier on the voters if the candidates would state these facts and not have the voters hunt for them.

I appreciate the great interest my friends and relatives are taking in my race and the confidence you are placing in me. So keep up the good work and I am sure the sentiment will be for me Aug. 1 just as it is today.

Thanking you in advance for your kind and loyal support, I am

Sincerely yours,
JOE C. FANNIN

WHAT OF POLITICS AND OF MEN?

Ren F. Nickell

It is now generally known that Jewell D. Wells, wife of Lynn B. Wells, has changed her registration from Democrat to Republican, and then filed her notification and declaration seeking the Republican nomination for Tax Commissioner, and she having no opposition in her Republican Party, is now the Republican nominee for Tax Commissioner of Morgan county.

To many people this is strange politics in view of the fact that Mr. Wells is seeking the Democratic nomination for County Attorney. There is nothing strange about the political behavior of Mr. Wells. He is the same Lynn B. Wells who boasted that he never supported Franklin D. Roosevelt or the New Deal or Fair Deal. He is the same Lynn B. Wells that boasted that he helped elect S. S. Willis, Republican Governor of Kentucky. He is the same Lynn B. Wells that advocated Dewey against Truman. This is the same Lynn B. Wells who called upon all Democrats by letter and in the newspaper to support Wilhoit, the Republican.

Spray Tomatoes for Blight

Victor Conley of Lacy Creek is one of the county's best gardeners. He sprays his tomatoes for blight when the weather is dry just the same as when it is wet. He uses a wet spray. He used two level tablespoons of a copper material, containing about 50 percent copper, per gallon of water. He sprays once a week and wets the leaves on both bottom and top sides and the ground beneath the plants. He says he wants to have his prevention there because if he have five days or more of cool, wet weather after while the blight will surely come.

Pete Rose of West Liberty follows the same kind of program and has one of the best tomato crops in town every year.

Sow Tobacco Beds in Soybeans

Sowing tobacco beds in soybeans will be widespread in the county this year. Wildfire germs must have weed roots on which to live. Thick soybeans will crowd out other plants. When the soybeans are turned under this fall, the roots will not quickly. The wildfire germs will then have no place to live and therefore will die. Use 15 pounds of soybeans on each 100x9 foot bed.

Corn Needs Nitrogen

A 100 bushel corn crop requires as much nitrogen as a 2,000 pound tobacco crop. Hager Arnett of Stacy Fork plans to add some ammonium nitrate to his corn before the last cultivation. He realizes that the acre of corn which he has in the Corn Derby should have 150 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre. He figures his needs this way:

A crimson clover cover added 60 pounds of nitrogen.

Three tons of manure added 30 pounds of nitrogen.

320 pounds of 6-8-6 fertilizer added another 19 pounds of nitrogen. This makes a total of 109 pounds already added.

Mr. Arnett plans to sidedress with 150 pounds of 33% ammonium nitrate which will give him 49 pounds more of actual nitrogen, making a total of 158 pounds per acre.

Six Acres of Pasture

Carries 10 Cattle

Six acres of 31 fescue and ladino clover pasture, seeded three years ago by Hager Arnett of Stacy Fork, has carried ten head of cattle since April 26. Mr. Arnett removed part of the cattle June 22 to permit the grass and clover to make new growth.

Late Nitrogen Injures Tobacco

It is getting late to add nitrogen to tobacco. If a high rate of nitrogen fertilizer is used on tobacco now, it may result in the tobacco staying green until frost and curling up too read and heavy. Of course tobacco still to be set must be fertilized but in such cases all the fertilizer should be applied before the tobacco is set. Do not sidedress tobacco with nitrogen after June 25 unless the amount of nitrogen already used is very low.

Use Transplanting Solution With Care

Buck Williams of Elamton reports that he killed some tobacco plants by using too high concentration of liquid fertilizer in the setting water. Clarence Smith of Jephtha killed some plants in sandy soil by using both the transplanting solution and liquid fertilizer in the setting water. Use these materials strictly according to direction and it is best to try them on small plots.

Pleasant Run Community Solves Long Neglect of Rural Cemetery With Old-Time Workin' May 30

Survivors Beautify Cemetery; Lunch Is Served All Workers

By John D. Engle, Jr.

"There is a remembrance of the dead, to which we turn even from the charms of the living. These we would not exchange for the song of pleasure, or the bursts of revelry."

—Washington Irving

The truth of the above statement is proved every year on Memorial Day when thousands of Americans pay their respects to departed loved ones. And in Morgan County the ceremonies of this day are most impressive when native sons and daughters come from far and near bearing flowers and memories. Narrow country roads suddenly become alive with traffic. City cars with out-of-state license plates crawl along in a cloud of country dust. Lonely hill tops and quiet knobs which hold the eternal secrets of the dead, now feel the touch of living feet. Little groups form around each mound. Wreaths and flowers are placed. There are a few whispered words followed by a period of silent remembrance.

In many cases, however, there is the feeling that once a year is not often enough for a visit to the graves of loved ones. Many of the country cemeteries are found to be overgrown with briars and bushes. Sometimes the headstones have been overturned and broken by livestock. Therefore, each year around Memorial Day, an effort is made to cut down the weeds, briars and sprouts. This is usually done in patches. Areas around certain graves are cleared off while the older graves that have had no visitors are sometimes neglected. But it is found that even if the cemetery is cleared off once a year, this still is not sufficient. In a city cemetery this problem is solved by caretakers who are paid from a common fund. But for many country cemeteries there is no fund and no special caretakers.

The Pleasant Run Community Cemetery, one mile east of Yocum postoffice, was typical of the neglected country cemetery until it was decided that something ought to be done about it. This cemetery began as a family burial plot in 1924 on the farm of Mrs. Ella Howard. Later another family graveyard was started nearby on the farm of John F. Lewis. When there were less than a half dozen graves in the two family plots, the division fence was removed from between them and the site became a community cemetery which at present contains seventeen graves.

Every year on Memorial Day when family groups brought up the subject of buying monuments, it was pointed out that the cemetery should first be fenced in from livestock, and it was agreed that something more should be done to keep down the weeds, briars, and bushes. It was not until this year, however, that these thoughts and plans began to materialize.

About three months before this past Memorial Day, Mrs. C. B. Engle of Xenia, Ohio, wrote a letter to Mrs. Elmer Lewis of Yocum. "We have been talking about fencing the cemetery for some time," wrote Mrs. Engle, "and I think it's time we did something about it. She suggested the idea of starting a fund for buying fencing material and then having a 'working' to clear off the cemetery and build the fence. Mrs. Lewis thought this was a splendid idea and the two women went to work immediately trying to contact the friends and relatives of all those who were buried in the cemetery.

Each person contacted was asked to contribute $5.00. The money kept coming in until the fund more than covered the cost of the posts and wire. The contributors were: Chalmers Engle, Mrs. Arrie Engle, Mrs. Pearl Lewis, Arrie Lewis, Mrs. Grace Caskey, Mrs. Opal C. Mann, Miss Josie Hurley, Miss Mildred Wilbur, Graham Engle, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Engle, Mrs. Jolene Fitzsimmons, Mrs. Dorothy Davis, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Engle, Jr., Orby Hurley, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lewis, Mrs. Mattie Lewis, Oryx Lewis, Mrs. Bessie Craycraft, Mrs. Mary Alice Lee, Mrs. Mary Engle, Mrs. Lou Hurley, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. DeVore, Wannie Howard, Denzil Howard, Mrs. Ella Howard, Walter Cox, Asa Hurley, Math Lewis, Elmo Lee, W. P. Lewis, Lexie Engle, Orby Engle, Mrs. Emma Engle, Phyllis Peterman, Sandford Whit, Mrs. Wayne Cline, Jim F. Engle.

Interest in the project grew and grew. On Memorial Day fifteen workers arrived at the cemetery armed with post hole diggers, wire stretchers, axes, saws and hammers. The work was carried out in the old-time community spirit of house raisings, bean stringings, quiltings, cane strappings, and husking bees. Those who attended the working were: Wannie Howard, Middletown, O.; C. B. Engle, Xenia, O.; Graham Engle, Fairborn, O.; J. D. Engle, Jr., Lexington, Ky.; Troy Lee, Pikeville, Ky.; Onzie Engle, Jim F. Engle, Elmer Lewis, Russell Lewis, L. B. Lewis, Elma Lewis, Walter Cox, Elwood Cox, Don Peyton and

PARTS of the cemetery looked like this before being cleared off

AFTER the "working" the cemetery took on a new appearance

Lexie Engle, all of Yocum, and Sandford Whit of Zag. Both noon and evening meals were served picnic style, "on the ground," by the following: Mrs. C. B. Engle, Mrs. Elmer Lewis, Mrs. Suda Lewis, Mrs. Jim F. Engle, Mrs. J. D. Engle, Jr., Mrs. Onzie Engle, and Miss Mildred Wilbur.

Following the noon meal, a memorial service was conducted by the Rev. W. M. Pope, Pastor of the Methodist Church, West Liberty.

The work that remained to be done on the fence was completed the following day. But other plans and projects grew out of this one. With the remaining agreed to buy grass seed and fertilizer and have the entire cemetery sowed in grass. It was also suggested that a power mower be bought later to keep the grass moved.

Plans were suggested for making a better road to the cemetery so that ambulances and other cars may be able to reach it any time of year. Interested people are now looking forward to a permanent fund devoted to the upkeep of the cemetery at all times.

MANY INTERESTING FEATURES PLANNED

Some interesting reading is ahead for Courier readers.

A five-column story of the exploits of Morgan county's top war hero, Maj. William E. Barber written for the National Police Gazette by a Sergeant who served under the Morgan Marine Major, will be republished soon through special permission by the publisher of the magazine. Maj. Barber was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor last year for heroic service in the Korean War while leading a company of Marines in the Chosin Reservoir section in the winter of 1950-51.

Judge Edward C. O'Rear is preparing an historical article that will be of profound interest to Morgan countians. It will be titled "The Settlement of the Upper Licking River Valley." Judge O'Rear has contributed a number of valuable historical articles on early Morgan history that have been read and preserved by hundreds of Courier readers.

Dr. Adolphus Gilliam, Morgan native who is now pastor of the First Methodist church in Lexington, is resuming his column "Around the Family Circle" which he had to drop temporarily due to the increased amount of work developing upon him in setting up the new Kentucky Youth Authority of which he is a member. This column has been an inspiring one for our readers.

J. M. Gevedon of Grassy Creek, Morgan county's foremost genealogist, is contributing an article on some early Morgan families. These are always of wide interest.

A list of Revolutionary War pensioners living in Morgan in 1840 and a list of Revolutionary War veterans who applied for pensions from Morgan has been prepared by Mrs. Georgia F. Taylor of Aberdeen, Md., a loyal Courier reader. These will be of great historic value.

A short biography of Judge John Will Perry, Morgan county Civil War hero who served with General John Hunt Morgan's Cavalry, is published in this issue.

The complete muster rolls of Companies A, B, C, D, and E of the Fifth Kentucky Regiment, Confederate States Army, organized in West Liberty by Col. A. J. May, has been obtained for us by Congressman Carl D. Perkins from the National Archivist in Washington and will be published soon. The Courier already has a story of the exploits of this valiant band of Morgan Confederates written by Judge O'Rear and has obtained pictures of most of the officers of the regiment, which will be published as a part of this Civil War record.

Mrs. Irma Haney, regent of the Morgan County chapter Daughters of the American Revolution, has obtained factual data on the lineage of another Revolutionary War veteran in Morgan county, Thomas Lewis, which will be published soon in connection with a story about the DAR's plan to erect a marker at his grave near Pomp.

The Courier publisher appreciates the cooperation of so many Morgan countians and former residents in his plan to present a well-rounded and interesting community paper as well as feature stories on as much of Morgan county's early history as can be obtained.

BEAUTIFYING RURAL CEMETERIES

Beautification of the rural cemetery at Pleasant Run near Yocum last Memorial Day, an account of which is carried on page 3 of the Courier this week, points eloquently to the great good that can be accomplished by a community working together with a common purpose.

For many years, John D. Engle, Jr. says in his article, people had talked of beautifying the rural cemetery, and all agreed it should be done, but no one took the initiative to start the project—that is until this year.

When two women, Mrs. C. B. Engle of Xenia, Ohio and Mrs. Elmer Lewis of Yocum took up the project, they found everyone more than willing to help. Letters to all who had loved ones buried in the cemetery brought in more cash than was needed to buy fencing, etc. A community working on Memorial Day, carried out in the old-time way of house raisings, etc. did the rest. The cemetery was cleaned of briars and bushes, then fenced, and now the community plans to sow it in grass, buy a power mower and have an all-season road built.

Another rural community in Morgan has maintained its cemetery in a more beautiful manner than any city cemetery. We refer to the beautiful Grassy Lick cemetery on Grassy Creek where a community organization has for many years maintained its cemetery in a fashion that might well be emulated by all rural communities.

Unkept, briar-infested cemeteries on knolls and hills in any community not only are unsightly but bespeak loudly the oversight, yea the neglect, of citizens and particularly the survivors of those buried there.

Every cemetery in Morgan county can be beautified in the manner followed by the Pleasant Run community. We salute the citizens of Pleasant Run and hope more communities follow their noble work.

Around The Family Circle

DR. ADOLPHUS GILLIAM

WHAT RELIGION DOES FOR US

Someone asked me the other day very pointedly, "Preacher, what does religion do for us anyhow? I have heard so many things that seem to run counter-current that it disturbs you and confuses you. What does it really do for you?" That question kept bearing on my mind because personally my interest and my deep concern as to the relationships of people is that they have the right kind of a pure and unadulterated religion. In trying to answer this it is such a broad thing that you have to be careful lest you spread yourself so thin that nothing is left, and I am not going to try to do that. I am going to point directly to some of the important things about religion.

Now the truth is, to the surprise of a lot of people, everybody is religious. You do not find any irreligious or non-religious people. The word religion means to bind back to. It does not say what you are going to have as the highest ambition or devotion in your life but everybody has that. It can be most anything; it can be even a pool table or a dollar or a farm or an estate or anything that he wants to make the highest worship of his life and that is his religion. So, when people tell you that they are not religious they do not understand what religion is.

The question that was asked by this man was, "What does religion that you talk about and that the ministers talk about do for you?" And of course he is talking about the kind of religion that binds the spirit of man back to his God and the God of the universe, the God of heaven, the kind of God that was revealed to us through Jesus Christ. Now let me just say this before I answer that question, that this is possible; even people who claim this to be their religion can be far from living it or even having it as a part of their life. They can make it as a profession because it is so easy for a person to profess faith in God. I suppose that we could even train a parrot to do that but this is not the thing that we are speaking about. We are speaking of that something that is genuinely in the mind and heart of the individual. So, it is not just a question of profession that counts—it is not a promise to the young lady by the young man that is the thing that is the most important; it is really what he feels in his heart about her or she about him that really does something for them.

So then the religion that I would like to remind you of is the kind that is genuinely and with all the experiences one knows anchored in God by what they have learned through Christ and all the revelations they have had of him. What does it do for us? Well, really it is health; it gives health to the spirit and to the mind, and I believe that you will agree with me that nothing is more important and nothing more beautiful and demanding of our attention than a healthy strong mind and spirit in anybody. We do everything we can to have a healthy body. Our hospitals are filled with people and our mental hospitals are filled with people who have bodies that are sick and minds that are sick. They are doing all they can to cure these conditions, they are using medicine and nursing and all the therapies of the day. They want to be healthy in mind and body but many of us forget that we are destroying these things that we want to keep, by the things that we do. Certainly in the spiritual man, the mind of man, a good conception and devotion to the highest things of the universe is one of the most health-giving things that can possibly be experienced by man. The truth is that when by faith and devotion and a genuine consecration to God by the spirit of man he is tied up with the realms of the universe and the things of God are open for his disposal there is where he finds his spiritual health, and man cannot be healthy without it.

Marena Leach married Thomas Havens and became the mother of a large branch of the Havens family. Her son Frank Havens was seriously wounded at Chickamauga. He later married Hannah Gibbs. Her son, John Sam, married Sarah J. Vest. Her daughter Cynthia married John C. Ferguson.

Mary Ann Leach married Benjamin Gevedon and became the mother of eleven children: Wm. G. Raney C., Berry C., John T. and Joseph F. Angeline, Louann, Elizabeth, Judith and Margaret. Wm. L. Gevedon married Alwilda McClure; Willis G. married Mary J. Carter; Raney C. married Jeston Testerman; Berry C. married Arta Perry; John T. married Molly McGuire; Joseph F. never married. Angeline Gevedon married Henry M. Barker; Louann married Wm. Lykins Barker; Elizabeth married Geo. W. Wheeler; Judith married Frank P. Henry, and Margaret married John W. Wheeler.

Nancy Leach married William Manning and became the mother of one son and two daughters, as well as I can remember: James M., Mary and Maren. James M. never married; Mary married Math Adams and Marena married Jim Adams.

Magdalen Leach married Scheldt McKinney and was the mother of two sons, William and Joseph, and five daughters: Rosa J., Milly A., Marena C., Judith F., Mariah and Ross J. McKinney married Will Carpenter; Milly A. married Robert Bartlett; Marena C. married Jim Fugate; Judith F. married Bernard McGuire; William McKinney married Rachel Fugate. If I ever knew whom Joe McKinney married, I have forgotten. Mariah McKinney never married.

Margaret Leach married Chas. Kilgore. She was the mother of an only son: Clark Kilgore. I do not know whom he married. (Magdalen McClure might give us that information.)

You can see by the above lists that the women of the Leach family far outnumber the men, and have hidden their name in the mists of other families. Yet they carried with them the blood of the Leaches and Chastains, old families of whom they should be proud, no matter where they have landed. Their marriages have brought their ancestry into the families of McKinney, Gevedon, Havens, Bartlett, Fugate, Wheeler, Ferguson, Manning, Adams, Elam, Henry, Barker, McGuire, Lewis, and too many more to mention here, who should endeavor to look up their ancestry on mother's side of the house.

Kelly Nickell, president of the Licking Valley R.E.A., and leading farmer, told the following story here recently: Several years ago while he was talking with Judge Edward C. O'Rear in Mt. Sterling, the Judge said that when Tom Hopkins of Pike county, Republican nominee for Congress in the old tenth district which included Morgan county, and Joe Kendall, the Democratic nominee in the same district who lived at West Liberty, during the election of 1893 Tom Hopkins was a Hard-shell Baptist preacher and pronounced the word shut like "shot" and in one of his speeches he said during the campaign "shot" up and the factories "shot" down. Kelly told the writer, Bernard E. Whit, that he remembers Tom very well and heard him speak.

Gerald Griffin of the Courier-Journal was a little astonished when J. M. Gevedon quoted an unpublished verse of Gray's Elegy at the DAR unveiling at Old Grassy cemetery, as Ol' Morgan reported three weeks ago. Mr. Gevedon, noting the item in the Courier, wrote Mr. Griffin recently, giving the book from which this very appropriate verse was obtained. It was: "Golden Hours With the Poets," volume 11 of "The Young Folks Treasury" edited by Hamilton Wright Mable, Edward Everett Hale, William Byron Forbush and Jennie Ellis Burdick, and published by the University Society of New York.

Mr. Gevedon notes the verse he used to end his address on the history of the Carter family was the fourth verse in the original "Elegy Written in a Country Churchyard," but was removed by the author from the original poem before publication. Gray's Elegy is Mr. Griffin's favorite poem but he had not known there were some unpublished verses.

The Courier is engaged this month in printing the fair catalog for Elliott and Morgan, the ballots for Elliott and Morgan, as well as considerable campaign material for candidates in the two counties. But so far we are keeping up with the added work by using additional pressmen. We want to serve our section adequately at all times.

The Courier received 44 NEW subscriptions during the month of June to add to its already large family of readers.

HOMER ELAM IS BACK IN BUSINESS

Homer Elam, who moved back to West Liberty from Winchester six weeks ago, has re-entered business in his store on Main street here, formerly occupied by Haney's Department Store.

After a completely remodeling of the interior of the building, Mr. Elam opened for business this week. He will handle grass seed, groceries and hardware.

Mr. Elam moved to Clark county six years ago after conducting a wholesale business here for 18 years. He operated a farm in Clark county for four years but had lived in Winchester the past two years.

His son, Dean, age 17, owns a grocery store on the Boonesboro Road out of Winchester. Another son is in the Navy.

STATEMENT OF BENNIE PATRICK

TO THE CITIZENS AND VOTERS OF MORGAN CO.
As some of you know, I announced through your local paper for Jailer of Morgan county and since that time I have been asked this question: If I was elected, who would do the cooking? So the people are entitled to know. I have told them, and it's still my intention as to who will be there with me, Arkie Patrick and his wife whom I am now making my home with. I have talked to a great many of the voters and feel like I am going to be the Jailer.

Thanking one and all for the encouragement you have shown me.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SECONDS OUR SUGGESTION TO MARK HISTORIC SPOTS

Licking Valley Courier—

You had a fine editorial on the subject of marking the graves of Revolutionary War soldiers and other historical spots in Morgan county. The articles on the unveiling of the marker at the grave of Joseph Carter, Revolutionary soldier were very interesting and fine publicity for the county.

I am a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution on the service of Ambrose Jones who is buried at Malone, Ky. I have contacted the national headquarters of the DAR in Washington, D. C. and hope eventually to have a marker put at his grave.

When Ambrose Jones died his Bible was in the possession of his son, John Jones. This Bible contained all the Jones family records. I would like to hear from anyone who has any knowledge of where this Bible is at present. The Courier is a wonderful paper and we always enjoy reading it.

The Courier—

Enclosed please find check for renewal of my subscription to your excellent paper. We look forward to receiving it each Saturday.

I noted with interest your editorial relative to homecomings. As you know, I have exerted considerable effort toward making our own West Liberty Homecoming successful and feel that more of the business men of West Liberty should get behind it us and push. The homecoming at Hazel Green is a big event only because enough people are interested to make it so. As you well know, all undertakings are advanced only as far as the people behind them are willing to advance. Ours can and should be made as well known as any homecoming event in the State. However, this can only be accomplished if enough of the prominent business and professional people of West Liberty become interested and push it. Advertised widely in your paper will be of great help. Let's push it. How about all those fish that get caught up your way? Why don't I see Editor Whit named among those bringin in the big ones? Last time I saw him he was wheelin down the road with enough cane poles on his car to stick a bean patch. Come to think of it, maybe that's what he was going to do???

Be seeing you at the Homecoming, if not before. In the meantime best wishes to you all.

The Courier—
Your booklet welcoming the Governor's Tour to Morgan county was very entertaining. Both its material and "get up" reflect credit and deserve the many nice things written of it in the press. I read the account of the visit with keenest interest.

I read J. M. Gevedon's address on Joseph Carter, Sr. in the Courier with relish and admiration.

"If You Can Keep It"

Oh, not yet lay by thy sword, O freedom! Nor yet close thy lids in slumber, For thou must watch and combat.

—William Cullen Bryant

As Benjamin Franklin left Independence Hall, a woman asked him, "Mr. Franklin, what kind of a government have you given us?" He answered gravely, "A Republic, madam, if you can keep it."

In painting this Independence Day scene in Hometown, U.S.A., the artist, E. Franklin Wittmack, has found an echo of Franklin's warning in a quotation from the poet William Cullen Bryant. The historic scene of Magna Charta, the "all light on old North Church Tower, the embattled 'rebels' of a just new nation—symbolize the hard-won victories, and the priceless freedom, which, on Independence Day 1953, are given every Hometown in the land—not done to celebrate, but to protect.

"I've seen a lot of trouble, but most of it has never happened." At Mark Twain's day, as today, people had a tendency to worry about things that MIGHT happen, but most of the time never did! There is a good lesson to be learned from the great author . . . and from our experience . . . many of our worries are borrowed.

It has been said that "no man ever sank under the burden of the day." YET TO COME are added the weight of living is unbearable. If we only live each hour and each moment as it comes—NOT TRYING TO MEET THE ENTIRE FUTURE—life will be so much simpler. For surely as the night follows day, the months roll on and the vast situation we thought we couldn't cope with is either softened on the horizon of memory or, if it still exists, we have learned to live with it.

Besides his wife, he leaves three sons: Milford of this place, Drexel of Middletown, Ohio, and Bill of Dayton, Ohio; three daughters-in-law and five grand-children, whom he loved dearly; two sisters, Mrs. C. F. Cox of Woodsbend and Mrs. D. K. Ferguson, Franklin, O.; two brothers, Frank Williams of South Point, Ohio, and Harvey Williams of New York, and several nieces and nephews.

Shortly afterward he was stricken by an incurable disease preventing him from being baptized. Since that time he had lived a consistent religious life.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Dana Avalen Nickell who passed away July 4, 1937.

Though many days have gone since, we still think of you and long for you in our arms as a sweet little baby. We speak your name often though God called you home in heaven.—Kelsie Henry Nickell and Family, 206 Burton Road, Middletown, O.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to thank each and every one who helped and assisted in any way during the illness and death of DILLARD WILLIAMS of Woodsbend, especially the ministers Murray and Lawson and the Potter Funeral Home for efficient service.—Mrs. Williams and sons.

NEW PIPELINE AUTHORIZED

The Federal Power Commission has authorized the Gulf Interstate Gas Company of Houston, Texas, to build a $129 1/2 million dollar pipeline for natural gas from Louisiana to Northeastern Kentucky. It was learned the line will be used solely to carry gas for the United Fuel Gas Co. of Charleston, W. Va. The 800-mile line will extend from Rayne, La., across Mississippi and Tennessee to connect with United Fuel's system in Boyd county, Ky., near Catlettsburg.

FESCUE SUPPORT IS 27c

The Commodity Credit Corporation this week announced a support price for this season's production of Ky. 3c Fescue seed. The support for 98 percent pure seed is 27 cents a pound for certified, and 20 cents a pound for uncertified. But farmers must have signed up with their county PMA committee and declared the approximate amount they wanted to sell before April 30. Eight Kentucky warehouses were approved for storing the seed, all of them in Louisville or Western Kentucky.

95 Members of Nine Clubs Attend Event in West Liberty 27th

Ninety-five 4-H members, leaders, and parents enjoyed their County Play Day which was held on the recreation grounds here Saturday. Nine clubs were represented. They included Ezel, Cannel City, West Liberty, Wrigley, Lacy Creek, Rockhouse, Coffee Creek, Crockett and Peddler Gap.

The Cannel City 4-H club received a soft ball and bat for winning the volley ball contest among clubs from consolidated schools and the girls horseshoe pitching contest. Lacy Creek received a soft ball for winning the small clubs volley ball contest. Crockett won the mixed horseshoe pitching contest, and received a softball for a prize. Other games on the morning program included softball, throw ball and circle pass ball. The games were conducted on the high school athletic field.

A weiner roast featured the lunch hour. It was held at the outdoor furnaces on the playground. Ice cream was served after the weiner roast.

Mrs. Estill Steele, Victor Conley, Rev. William Pope, County Agent Charlie Dixon and Assistant County Agent Claude Christian directed the games in the forenoon.

Following the weiner roast Mr. Dixon led a grand march to line up the group for their ice cream. Rev. Pope led a song session that was enjoyed very much. Mrs. Estill Steele led an ice cream social, and that was tasty to those who took part and fun for those who watched.

Mrs. Victor Conley conducted an apple relay which paid off for those with the flattest heads and the best posture. Mrs. C. S. Jackson turned up a real bouncer in Alan Hemphill of Wrigley who won a roly poly sack race. Dora Whitam returned this week from Columbus, Ohio where she was with her husband who is receiving instruction before beginning his very interesting work as Field Representative of The North American Aircraft Lines. Mr. Whitam formerly head of the Inspection Department of aircraft at the Naval Air Station is eminently qualified to take over this responsible position. The Whitams moved a few months ago into their lovely new home on the Throe Notch Road and it is hoped that his field assignment will be in the territory that will enable them to continue residence here. publican nominee, against W. Major Gardner, the Democratic nominee for Commonwealth Attorney. This is the same Lynn B. Wells who advocated Eisenhower and the Republican ticket last year, and now in this year of 1953, is asking the Democrats of Morgan county to give him the Democratic nomination for County Attorney.

If by some chance Mr. Wells could bamboozle the Democrats into giving him this nomination for County Attorney, which I by no manner of means concede, what party would he support this coming November?

Now in view of the political record of Lynn B. Wells I ask all Democrats to give me their support in this primary. Let the Democrats nominate a known and proven Democrat.

I suggest that Mr. Wells withdraw from this race and save the embarrassing obligations in the coming November election.

THOUGHTY

The part to play in life's great game, is not to strive for earth or fame, It's not to lay upon the shelf, Just everything we want for self. It's not for show our gifts are made, Nor should we hope to be repaid; To help another's burdens bear, Is one great reason why we're here.

Mountain Muses

Edited By
JOHN D. ENGLE, JR.

Send all poems to Mr. Engle
326 Woodland Avenue, Lexington, Ky.

Objective poetry, that deals with the problems and heartbreaks of human beings, will find a more ready market and a wider audience than the more subtle type, though there is a place for both, if the latter is not too subtle. Of the objective, or universal type of poem is this one titled LOST FLYER, which was sold to the New York Times.

Stay the green summer in wing-woven meadows,
Mute the soft music of wind in the leaves,
Dapple the sun-wish with cloud shutters shadows,
For under the roof edge a lone pigeon grieves.
Loud was the thunder that shattered the pinion,
Dark was the feather that that petaled the hill.
Light the slim candle, weep for the lost ones,
The bright wing now folded, the brave heart gone still.

Another of this kind of poem, that may find an echoing chord in the heart of any mother, is TALL SON which appeared in the Washington Evening Star—

My love for you was shaped so eagerly,
And fashioned for a boy of minor size,
A far too shielding thing, it shut away
The knowledge that would make you tall and wise.
Only when you towered above me did I know
How narrow was my love in width and seam,
Too late to spin new fabric that would go
To help you build a taller, brighter dream.

Proof in the universality of a poem lies in the response it brings from the reading public. One that brought many letters, saying, "I knew someone like that," was

WOMAN FROM THE HILLS
She was a small, brown hickory nut of a woman,
And when her well-meaning children brought her down from hills she knew and loved, it seemed scarcely human to cage her proud hill spirit within the town.
Where spring brought the meager kiss of a fickle lover,
With never a fragrance to mark the hours by,
Where days were sad for lack of the winging plover
Or song of the lark that ribboned down the sky.
And yet she wove her days with a well known shuttle,
For she brought one precious

Former Resident of West Liberty To Publish Book

Announcement has been made by the G. C. Printing Co., of Big Laurel, Virginia, of the publication of a book on southern mountain folklore and folk ways. The author of the book is James Taylor Adams, widely known as a historical and genealogical writer of Big Laurel, Mr. Adams formerly lived at West Liberty, starting his work-day life here in the Morgan House, owned and operated by Jimmy and Moselotte (Spradlin) Cole. Adams was 12 years old at the time and made his home with an uncle William G. Short who resided across the street from the Matthew T. Scott Jr. Collegiate Institute. Another uncle James Alexander (Alex) Short, operated the Salver mill here for many years. The author of the book of folklore which is titled "A Few Lines to Mary" is a first cousin to Mrs. Will Edith Wells of West Liberty and a second cousin to Mrs. Ova O. Haney of this town.

Adams recalls that Jimmy Cole changed the name of his hotel from the "Morgan House" to "Cole Hotel" while he was employed there, and that he "waited on" the sign painter while he was making the new sign, and how "Jimmy" stood off, hands on hips, and admired the finished job. Late Judge John Will Perry Was Cavalry Leader With Gen. Morgan

Scion of Early Morgan Family Loved To Fox Hunt In Later Years

(By B. E. Whitt)

One of the first families to settle in Morgan county was John Perry and family who came from Greenbrier county, West Virginia and settled near West Liberty.

He had a son Tom Perry who settled and lived near the mouth of Elk Fork at the mouth of Coonrod. Tom Perry had six sons and six daughters—John M. Perry, Cyrus Perry, Ned Perry, New Perry of Montgomery county, Ben Perry and John Will, the Confederate cavalry leader.

The six daughters were Sally Pierce of Frenchburg, Maggie McConnell of Montgomery county; Rachael Williams; Frances Carter; Elizabeth Henry, and Jane Cox, wife of Milt Cox.

Thomas D. Perry was born in Greenbrier county near White Sulphur Springs, Virginia Aug. 5, 1796. He came to Kentucky on his mother's lap riding a horse in 1797 when he was 16 months of age.

The family settled 2 1/2 miles from Mt. Sterling on the Maysville road, and lived there about four years and moved to Morgan county and settled at the mouth of Elkfork on the Licking River.

When John Will Perry was 14 years old he ran away from school and joined John Hunt Morgan's Cavalry and became a lieutenant. He continued with him until Morgan was killed at Greenville, Tennessee.

After the war he was accorded with helping to restore law and order and to place under control some of the tough elements.

The first time I ever saw him was about 1905 one morning just after daybreak. He rode down the branch on Vance Fork to our home and had three or four fox hounds following. He had a very beautiful horse and was every inch a perfect horseman riding down the valley and calling his hounds with his horn. He stopped and my father and mother would have him come in and eat breakfast with us.

As a child, I remember how much I enjoyed hearing him talk and tell of the chase. Later when I came to West Liberty to school I can remember him on the streets of West Liberty sitting on the walk at the old arcade and telling stories and jokes about the fox chase. I remember he would often say, "If they are not sure I am dead before they bury me, take my hounds and start a fox chase. If I do not get up and yell the I am no longer living."

Another story he told was that in one of the battles he rode a wild mule into the fight and the mule became so excited and uncontrollable that it carried him right into and through the Union line and he fought his way in and somehow got the mule turned back and it carried him back to his men safely. General Morgan called him into his tent and said, "Bill, I like brave soldiers, but there is no use of you being so brave as to ride right into their lines."

Judge Will Perry passed away at West Liberty in 1922 and was buried in the Lexington cemetery where he had a family lot. His daughter, Miss Lillie Perry lives at West Liberty. While she has been an invalid for more than a year her memory and mental faculties are as active as a young person. She is interested in all that happens and reads daily. She told the editor how Mrs. H. B. Murray visits her two or three times each day, preparing her breakfast and taking care of her.

Judge John Will Perry (from an old tintype)

Many times he would ride his horse with four or five hounds following and go to all parts of the county fox hunting. When the chase was over he would blow his horn and ride back to town on his bay horse, erect and with all the grace and dignity of a famous cavalry rider which he had been for four years.

After the war he was accorded with helping to restore law and order and to place under control some of the tough elements.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The 1952 session of the General Assembly, of which I was a member, enacted a law requiring persons applying for old age assistance to give a lien on any real estate they owned before becoming eligible for old age assistance. It is a matter of public record that I DID NOT VOTE FOR THIS LAW. It is also a matter of public record that my opponent J. Everett Bach did vote for this law. Therefore, I feel that I am entitled to the support of the old and needy people and of their friends.

Farm Facts
FOR KENTUCKY FOLKS

by Wm. C. Johnstone
AGRICULTURAL REPRESENTATIVE
KENTUCKY BANKERS ASSOCIATION

Last Month, June, was Dairy Month so we discussed dairying—its importance to Kentucky and the things we could do to make dairying more profitable. Now, in July, we will discuss pastures, because August is designated as "Green Pastures Month" and there is much to be done in July if pastures are to be renovated, or established in August. First, a word about why August is best month in which to launch a pasture improvement program. It is a good time to be in limestone and fertilizer; to sow alfalfa; to disk, fertilize and reseed poor pastures and to start the cover crop program.

Soil testing is the first step in pasture improvement program. One simply can't limit or fertilize efficiently without knowing what plant-foods should be added. One hundred county soil testing laboratories will be testing soil samples for Kentucky farmers this year. In 1952 over 46 thousand samples were tested. Of these, only 3315 samples came from meadow or pasture fields. 57% needed potash and 46% needed phosphate.

An abundance of plant food available for the seedling grass and clover is essential in starting a good pasture. Lighter rates of fertilizer may be used if it is concentrated in rows just under the seed where the roots may come into contact with it early in their existence.

The excellent crop of grass and clover seed harvested in Ken- tucky this year will favor the men who have to cut it. There is an abundance of fescue, red and ladina clover, and an adequate supply of orchard grass and blue grass, which are the principle species used in the pasture program.

Accumulated Winter Pastures is a term with which Kentucky farmers should become familiar. It refers to the removal of live-stock from certain grass fields in late August, treating them with needed fertilizer and per- mitting growth to accumulate for grazing in December, January and February. This system has been used successfully both in research and practice and ma- terially reduces the cost of live- stock production. An acre of pasture in winter is worth as much as an acre in the summer. An Accumulated Winter Pasture of fescue and ladina clover in North Georgia carried one cow per acre during the period, De- cember 1, 1950 to February 15, officers and nominating com- mittee felt that if any vacancy de- velops on the board, the new member would be elected from Elliott. Manager Barber told the group Elliott county has better "area coverage" than either of the other two counties. Wolfe County Judge Charley Murphy moved the report of the nominating committee be ac- cepted and the committee's mem- bers be elected.

No other nominations were made, and the subscriber-mem- bers approved the election of the nine trustees nominated by the committee by a voice vote.

SCHOOL GROUPS NAMED

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 3— State Superintendent of Public Instruction Wendell P. Butler named a five-man subcommittee of the State Advisory Committee on Education to draft a suitable "minimum foundation" educa- tional program. The subcom- mittee includes H. Fred Wilkie, of Indianapolis, Ind., businessman; Burl St. Clair, Falls of Rough, president of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation; R. B. Atwood, Frankfort, president of the Kentucky State College; Lyman Cline, Lexington, president of the Kentucky Education Association, and Butler.

Blight Hits Tomatoes

Blight has already hit many tomato crops in the county. Careful spraying every week is urged. Use 2 level tablespoons of material containing at least 45 percent copper to each gallon of water. Cover all leaf surface, stems and the ground.

Blight on Beans

Numerous complaints have been received about blight, anthrac- nose and some insect damage on beans. Spraying the beans with the same material as used on to- matoes for blight control may help some. Do not save home grown bean seed. Change to new ground next year if it is avail- able. Use rotenone dust or spray with 50 percent wettable meth- oxychlor to control the bean beetles.

P.M.A. Committee Elections

PMA elections for community committeemen and delegates to county committee elections will be held July 30. Find out where your community election will be held and be there on time.

Field Day Plans

A planning committee met at county agent's office and set up plans for the Morgan County Farm and Home Field Day which will be held July 31. There will be a tour of the home for all and a tour of the farm for the men and those women who care to go. There will be a freezing demonstration and special enter- tainment for the ladies in the forenoon. Local people and Ex- periment Station Field Agents will appear on the afternoon pro- gram.

stalled. The Kentucky Road Oil- ing Co. did the grade work, with Licking River Limestone Co. do- ing bridge work.

Stacy Fork Road Started
Gose advises that the Salem- Stacy Fork road is now under construction. Work was started at Salem at the junction of Ky. 205 and the road is now blocked approximately 1 mile up Phipps Fork. The first concrete struc- ture has been completed and the other structure should be com- pleted by July 4th.

This is a very important road. People once had to travel this by wagon or jeep. When com- pleted the distance will be 3.52 miles and intersects to the high- way which was completed up to Maek Peyton's in 1950.

The contractor on this highway is Licking River Limestone Co. of West Liberty. Contract esti- mate was $77,405, and completion date on the 3.52 miles is Nov. 1. However, it is anticipated that the road will be completed well in advance of this date.

Contractors will look over the Little Blackwater Road Thurs- day of this week. Bids will be opened on July 10. This road be- gins 1.0 mile West of Ezel at the end of rural highway and extends to the junction of the Lane high- way, 2.10 West from the begin- ning.

The Broughtontown Home- makers Club in Lincoln county made and erected road signs for all roads in their area.

Noble Faque of Calloway co- untty reports that barley har- vested from last year's tobacco land yielded 50 bushels to the acre.
